

Women in Business Expo features fashion show

SPECIAL TO THE CHRONICLE

Beth Anderson Productions presented the "You Can Be Fashionably Beautiful" Fashion Show at the Women in Business Expo on Aug. 22.

Narcissus, Tallahassee's premier designer boutique, provided the fashions for the show. Each model wore a designer brand which included styles from Trina Turk, Lilly Pulitzer, Milly, Liquid, and GadoGado. The Narcissus staff adorned each outfit with coordinating jewelry and handbags.

Each model wore three different looks: business professional, daytime contemporary, and evening. Always a crowd pleaser, Narcissus' collections were a hit amongst the fashion show attendees.

The models included Bailey Powell, the reigning Miss Panhandle USA and contestant in last month's Miss Florida USA® pageant. Bailey also held the title of Miss Emerald Coast USA® last year. She currently attends Flagler College where she is pursuing a degree in business. Riesa Pascal, originally from London, England, is a professional model and currently a junior at Florida State University where she double majors in Creative Writing and Communications.

The fashion show was produced by Beth Anderson Productions. Beth Anderson is a local attorney and the reigning Mrs. Tallahassee and Mrs. Panhandle. In addition to runway shows, event planning, and speaking engagements, Beth is producing this year's Miss Tallahassee USA® pageant in November. Miss Tallahassee USA® is a preliminary
